PERFORMANCE REVIEW

They are fast, they are furious, they are over-qualified and underpaid – and they always stay polite. Interns are the lifeforce running through the veins of the offices – with coffee! On their way to the top Meryn fulfills all the work-related demands thrown at them on their way to the next assignment. They will give all they have. mostly cards

Not many interns stay for long, as the job requires extended multitasking and many sacrifices, especially when it's time for lunch orders! But no worries, Meryn's got this – they can't help but run faster! And one day .... One day they might become CEO.

Oh come on, for real? Why are all interns like this?
